Sunday of Divine Mercy / Domingo de la Divina Misericordia
April 8, 2018 / 8 de Abril de 2018

It is not often that the author of one of the books of the Bible comes right out and tells us directly why he is writing what he is writing. In this Sunday's Gospel reading, taken from the conclusion of John's Gospel, the author tells us that he has chosen to record these events so "that you may come to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that through this belief you may have life in his name" (20:31). The letter of John echoes this idea by saying that "everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is begotten by God" (5:1)—what we might refer to as being "born again." Our reading from the Acts of the Apostles for this Second Sunday of Easter shows us exactly what it looks like when believers are born again through faith.

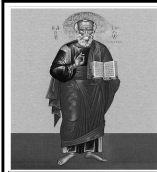

No sucede demasiado a menudo que el autor de uno de los libros de la Biblia se dirija directamente a nosotros para explicarnos porque está escribiendo lo que está escribiendo. En la lectura del Evangelio de este domingo, que pertenece a la conclusión del Evangelio según san Juan, el autor nos dice que ha elegido escribir estos acontecimientos para que "crean que Jesús es el Mesías, el Hijo de Dios, y para que, creyendo, tengan vida en su Nombre" (20:31). La carta de san Juan retoma esta idea diciendo que: "todo el que cree que Jesús es el Cristo ha nacido de Dios" (5:1); lo que llamaríamos "nacer de nuevo". Nuestra lectura de los Hechos de los Apóstoles para este Segundo Domingo de Pascua nos muestra exactamente que sucede cuando los creyentes nacen de nuevo por medio de la fe.

REFLECTIONS - Part of the mystery of Jesus' Resurrection is that he appeared to his disciples and as a spirit, but in bodily form. We do not know, however, exactly what this form looked like. Earlier in John's Gospel, when Mary of Magdala first encountered the risen Jesus, she did not recognize him until he spoke to her. In Luke's Gospel, the disciples walking along the road to Emmaus did not recognize Jesus until he broke bread with them. We know from readings such as today's that in his resurrected form, Jesus was not bound by matter; he appeared to the disciples inside a home even though the door was locked. Yet the disciples could still touch the marks of his Crucifixion. In today's Gospel, Jesus greet his disciples with the gift of peace, Jesus then commissions his disciples to continue the work that he has begun; a Jesus was sent by God, so Jesus sends his disciples. He gives his disciples the gift of the Holy Spirit so that they will be able to accomplish his task. Jesus' words to his disciples also highlight the integral connection between the forgiveness of sins and the gift of the Holy Spirit. With the grace of the Holy Spirit, we can share forgiveness and reconciliation with others. Thomas, the doubting disciple in today's reading, represents the reality of the Church that comes after their first community of witnesses to Jesus. All but the first disciples of Jesus must believe without seeing. Like Thomas, we may doubt the news that Jesus, who was crucified and buried, appeared to the disciples. Our human nature seeks hard evidence that the Jesus who appeared to his disciples after his death is indeed the same Jesus who was crucified. Thomas is given the opportunity to be our representative in obtaining this evidence. He gives witness to us that the Jesus who was raised is the same Jesus who died. Through the gift of the Holy Spirit, we are among those who are blessed, for we have not seen and yet believe.

REFLEXIONES - Parte del misterio de la Resurrección de Jesús es que se apareció a sus discípulos y como un espíritu, pero en forma corporal. Sin embargo, no sabemos exactamente cómo era esta forma. Anteriormente en el Evangelio de Juan, cuando María de Magdala se encontró por primera vez con el Jesús resucitado, ella no lo reconoció hasta que él le habló. En el Evangelio de Lucas, los discípulos que caminaban por el camino a Emaús no reconocieron a Jesús hasta que él partió el pan con ellos. Sabemos por lecturas como las de hoy que en su forma resucitada, Jesús no estaba sujeto a la materia; se apareció a los discípulos dentro de una casa a pesar de que la puerta estaba cerrada. Sin embargo, los discípulos aún podían tocar las marcas de su Crucifixión. En el Evangelio de hoy, Jesús saluda a sus discípulos con el don de la paz, Jesús luego encarga a sus discípulos que continúen el trabajo que él ha comenzado; a Jesús fue enviado por Dios, entonces Jesús envía a sus discípulos. Él les da a sus discípulos el don del Espíritu Santo para que puedan cumplir su tarea. Las palabras de Jesús a sus discípulos también resaltan la conexión integral entre el perdón de los pecados y el don del Espíritu Santo. Con la gracia del Espíritu Santo, podemos compartir el perdón y la reconciliación con los demás. Thomas, el discípulo que duda en la lectura de hoy, representa la realidad de la Iglesia que viene después de su primera comunidad de testigos de Jesús. Todos menos los primeros discípulos de Jesús deben creer sin ver. Al igual que Tomás, podemos dudar de la noticia de que Jesús, que fue crucificado y sepultado, se apareció a los discípulos. Nuestra naturaleza humana busca pruebas contundentes de que el Jesús que se apareció a sus discípulos después de su muerte es en verdad el mismo Jesús que fue crucificado. Thomas tiene la oportunidad de ser nuestro representante para obtener esta evidencia. Él nos da testimonio de que el Jesús que resucitó es el mismo Jesús que murió. Por el don del Espíritu Santo, estamos entre aquellos que son bendecidos, porque no hemos visto y aún creemos.

FEAST OF THE DIVINE MERCY

Jesus first spoke to the visionary mystic Saint Faustina in 1931 asking for a Feast of Divine Mercy. He requested St. Faustina to instruct priests about the when, the why, and purpose of the Feast of Divine Mercy, and how to prepare for and to celebrate the Feast. The idea of Divine Mercy is evident throughout the entire book of Sacred Scripture and throughout the liturgy during the entire year. The choice of celebrating the feast on the first Sunday after Easter emphasizes the close connection between the Easter mystery of redemption and divine mercy. The passion, death and resurrection of Christ are the greatest expression of God's mercy toward men. The relationship between Easter and Mercy is emphasized by the Novena of Divine Mercy. The sacraments are inexhaustible sources of God's mercy and redemption. They are also closely linked with devotion to Divine Mercy. The Feast of Mercy should be a special day of worship of God in this mystery and a day of great grace of all people and deliverance from sin.
